

Offshore Company Information

Offshore company formation provides many people with the financial privacy and protection that domestic business structures cannot. Our clients are simply looking for a safer way to protect the assets they have acquired throughout their lifetime. In each client scenario, all forms of protection are discussed, which include offshore companies, banking and trusts.

Offshore Company Planning

Our goal at OffshoreCompany.com is to protect the interests of our clients. We work hard to give you all of the options to help you manage risk and protect your wealth. In each consulting engagement, the strategy and offshore company planning is unique and specific to the goals of our clients, the type and value of the assets they desire to protect and their level of comfort.

We provide you with the key to protecting your wealth. It takes a lifetime to accumulate it and a moment for it to be jeopardized. Don't Wait.

Offshore companies utilize powerful legal statutes that, as a non-domicile resident, can be leveraged to your advantage. Domestic legal entities offer excellent liability protection for business owners as well as a number of benefits for tax situations, however when it comes to financial privacy and true protection of your wealth from legal opponents, they fall short. Offshore company havens can extend legal protection measures that simply cannot compare with those of Canada, the US and UK. Some of these laws are written solely for this purpose.

Offshore Company Consulting

To learn more about offshore companies, give one of our representatives a call during business hours, Pacific Time. We are standing by to answer your questions and educate you on how to create a plan using an offshore company to protect yourself from a legal battle. Protection starts with prevention and forming a company offshore is a step in preventing your assets from being available to a legal opponent, the first step in protecting your wealth.
